

Catarrh Of The Stomach Is Dangerous

"Thousands Have It and Don't Know It," Says Physician. Frequently Mistaken for Indigestion—How to Recognize and Treat.

"Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly from furred, coated tongue, bad breath, sour, burning stomach, frequent vomiting, rumbling in stomach, bitter eructations, gas, flatulence, and stomach acidity and call it indigestion, when in reality their trouble is due to gastric catarrh of the stomach," writes a New York physician.

Catarrh of the stomach is dangerous because the mucous membrane lining of the stomach is thickened and a coating of phlegm covers the surface so that the digestive juices cannot mix with the food and digest them. This condition soon breeds deadly diseases in the form of cancer, tuberculosis, blood poisoning, and carries the infection throughout the body. Gastric ulcers are apt to form and frequently an ulcer is the first sign of a deadly cancer.

The catarrh of the stomach is a good and safe treatment is to take before meals a teaspoonful of pure Bismuth Magnesia in half a glass of hot water. The hot water washes the mucous from the stomach walls and draws the blood to the stomach while the bismuthated magnesia is an excellent solvent for mucous and increases the efficiency of the hot water treatment. Moreover, the bismuthated magnesia will serve as a powerful but harmless laxative. It will neutralize any excess hydrochloric acid that may be in your stomach and soothe the inflamed lining. It is harmless, pleasant and easy to take, and can be obtained from any local druggist. Don't confuse Bismuthated Magnesia with other forms of magnesia, milks, citrates, etc., but get it in the pure bismuthated form (powder or tablets), especially prepared for this purpose.

"Grippe" Leaves Kidneys Weak

The epidemic of colds and grippe that has been sweeping the country has seemingly left even a greater number of people than a weakened, rundown condition from which there is but a slow recovery. Much of this is due to the fact that the kidneys and bladder, making it difficult for them to perform their natural functions. Sufferers have to get in and out of bed half a dozen times a night, their backs are weak and painful, sick headaches and dizziness are common symptoms. No serious trouble may exist, but the time to check such symptoms is at once before matters grow worse. No complicated treatment may be needed if a few doses of a good safe kidney regulator like Solvax is taken right away. Solvax straightens out ordinary cases of weakened kidneys in about twenty-four hours in many instances. It is a powerful but harmless, contains no alcohol or habit forming drugs, and is a safe, reliable, leading druggist agrees to refund its full purchase price if in any case it fails to give entire satisfaction.

ONLY TWO CARLOADS OF BEEF

OVER C. N. E. RAILROAD

Danbury, Conn., April 12.—Only two carloads of beef from the west came in here today over the Central New England railroad, compared with the usual daily shipment of between fifty and sixty cars, divided into two trains, one for Boston and the other for Providence and New Haven. The two cars handled through here today were consigned to Providence. Freight traffic from the west reached a low mark in the railroad yards, where about 100 switchmen and firemen employed by the Central New England and New York, New Haven and Hartford railroads have quit work. No change in the situation here was noticeable. Passenger trains were run, although slightly delayed.

SUPT. GRAHAM REPORTS LONG SOCIETY SCHOOL WILL REMAIN OPEN

The petition of protest against the closing of the Long Society district school, with 80 signatures attached, was presented by a committee of five, B. Warren Davis, James J. Bliss, Charles W. Ebbens, Howard D. Spaulding and C. B. Chapman, to the Town School Board at its regular meeting on Tuesday evening. Apparently those who presented the petition were premature in their assumption that the school was to be closed, for in the report of Supt. E. J. Graham, the school was not to be closed and would remain open. Nothing however was done about reopening the third and fourth grades of the school. This closed the incident without any discussion or vote. Works as was at first anticipated. The Long Society delegation left the presence of the school board entirely satisfied.

After the closing of this issue the board devoted its attention to the matter that is occupying the center of the stage in school matters, namely, the increase of teachers' salaries. This question was discussed until a few minutes after midnight with no feeling of animosity toward the teachers, but in a spirit of fairness to all concerned—in fact, one member of the board said he was willing to pay the extra amount of taxation entailed by a grant of the requested increase of $400. For some time past, since the matter of increase was brought up, the school board has been making investigation of the matter of salaries paid in other Connecticut towns, averaging the same size of Norwich.

Supt. E. J. Graham presented the following table which shows the average salary of teachers of elementary schools in the year ending July 1, 1919, and the salary which they will receive for the school year 1920-21, maximum and minimum. These statistics were for a large part gathered from the state report for the year ending 1919. The following table shows the comparative wage scale and that out of ten towns three paid more than Norwich but six paid less than Norwich.

| Teachers' Salaries | 1919-20 | 1920-21 |
|--------------------|---------|-----------|
| Arsonia— | | $1500 |
| Torrington— | | 1400 |
| Middletown— | | 1300 |
| Moriden— | | 1220 |
| New Haven— | | 1200 |
| New Britain— | | 1200-1300 |
| New London— | | 935 |
| Norwalk— | | 800 |

Other business at the meeting included the receipt and acceptance of the resignation of Miss Helen C. Hamilton of the Falls school. Miss Margaret V. Wright has been appointed as a substitute for Miss Hamilton and Miss Maria Gallup will be permanent teacher in 1920-21.

The school board also granted permission to those teachers of the kindergarten and first grades to attend the lectures in New London next month which will be given by Miss Patti Hill, recognized as the leading authority on efficiency in kindergarten work in the United States.

It was also announced that Dr. Richard C. State, Normal school at Willimantic would give a series of lectures on educational subjects in this city in the near future. These lectures are for teachers but are also open to the public.

The meeting, which occupied four solid hours was attended by B. P. Bishop, T. J. Kelly, William T. McGarry, Robert McNeely, Charles A. Saxton, C. O. Murphy and Supt. Graham.

CHARLES VELLIS IS TO REVISIT HOME IN GREECE

Nine years ago last January Charles Vellis, the Franklin square restaurant proprietor, landed in New York from Greece. He has since been in the United States, where he has worked for six months in a candy store at $25 a month.

On Saturday he sold out to Peter Sillas his half interest in the prosperous restaurant business which he has conducted in partnership with Mr. Sillas, and he is now to return to his home in Greece. He will conduct it as his own business.

Possibly six months from now, after a good visit with his parents and three sisters in the family of Athens, Mr. Vellis will return to take up his residence again in the United States and probably will visit Norwich again. Accompanying him on the return trip will be his wife, Mrs. Sillas, who has been waiting for him in his native land. After their marriage he will return with his bride to Norwich.

The Vellis brothers, Charles, James and Peter, have been well known in the restaurant business here for the past four years at the location on Franklin square, at the corner of Rose place.

Charles was the pioneer of the family in leaving home, departing from there against his parents' wishes, and landing in New York on Jan. 11, 1911. A year later, Jim, his older brother, followed over to bring him back, but Jim held residence in America so well that he too stayed, and later they were joined here by the youngest brother, Peter.

Before going into the restaurant business in Norwich, Charles worked for a time in the Sillas candy store, but in June, 1914, Charles Vellis and his brothers, James and Peter, bought out the Clarence D. Boynton restaurant at 225 Main street, Franklin square. They at once remodeled the place by putting in new equipment and kept it in the corner store that for years had been occupied by the Morrison cigar store. They remodeled the entire place into the present restaurant property and have done a large and profitable business.

Mr. Vellis and Mr. Dimas intend to sail from New York on the 26th of this month for Greece by a line of steamers that will land them at the port of Athens in about 13 days. Before sailing Mr. Vellis will probably visit in Boston and Chicago.

The future plans of James and Peter Vellis have not yet definitely been decided.

How Ladies Improve Looks!

"Many ladies, old and young, suffer a round of torture with their nerves, and many are so frail, thin and bloodless that their splendid features are lost sight of, while a vain attempt to conceal the angularity of the figure deprives no one but themselves and really excites the pity or ridicule of the world," said a well known, largely employed practicing physician in a recent lecture at a young ladies' college. Why Any More Cold Feet!

No reason should now exist why any one should have cold feet in the real sense, for an ingenious device has been developed by which one's pedal extremities can always be warmed by electricity.

Leonard Zimmerman, a young student of electricity and already an expert in wireless telegraphy, sends to add by paper a novel idea for warming the feet.

He takes an ordinary felt insole, splits it and places a loop of tungsten wire to run all around it, inside. This is replaced in the shoe, and the ends of the wire are carried about half an inch up the back of the heel and fastened to two small metal pegs which project through the shoe. When the user touches the poles of a pocket battery to the two metal pegs, the tungsten wire becomes hot and heats the felt of the insole. There is no danger of burning for the instant the wearer feels the shoe becoming too hot he breaks the connection by removing the battery.
